Barber school with an eye for style

Pioneers in barbering education making grooming accessible for the every day man

London School of Barbering & Cameron Charles collaborated in hair and fashion spirit recently and the result was striking, loud with a raw edge feel! Both brands had the opportunity to showcase what they do best. Top class barbering from London School of Barbering and crisp craftsmanship of superb leather jackets.

The luxurious, effortless and seriously distinctive leather jackets designed by Cameron Charles were injected with plenty of attitude with razor sharp haircuts cut by the barber gurus at LSB.

In this special collaboration photo shoot, the ridiculously rugged and distinctive leather jackets on the models get an instant uplift with impeccable and flawless haircuts cut by LSB lead educator Henry Stevens. The haircuts were a toss between distinctive volume & super sharp fades producing a cutting edge look!

Our models with their attitude bring these soul boy hairstyles and rich hairstyles to life.
